

A photograph of St. Basil's Cathedral in Moscow, Russia, featuring its iconic multi-colored onion domes. The cathedral is the central focus, with a crowd of people walking in the foreground. The image is dimmed to allow for text overlay.

Russia

BY BRAYTON STEWART

Facts about Russia

- ▶ The very beginning of Russia was the Slavs of the East
- ▶ the East Slavs were a group of people called a tribe and this was a group of people who beat people with bats and other miscellaneous items.
- ▶ after this they evolved into the Belarusian people.

Weird facts about russia

- ▶ Russia has a rule on how many flowers to give to women.
- ▶ They also have a rule about even or odds you always give odds to the women and the even number amount is for funerals.
- ▶ They also have a rule about how to drink a bottle of vodka.

Things about Russian culture

- ▶ The Russians culture is actually a lot like a lot of others they havens they do differently but it is still a 3rd world country and that means that they have high mortality rates especially infant mortality rates.
- ▶ They have very bright colors in Russia such as the Basils Cathedral in Moscow.
- ▶ In fact they have such bright colors they even decided that they needed to paint the dash on the flight deck of their aircrafts turquoise.

Things people didn't know about Russian culture

- ▶ Apparently The culture of the ethnic Russians, along with the cultures of many other minority ethnic groups in the country—has a long tradition of achievement in many fields

Things about Russian celebrations

- ▶ In the Russian holiday equal to Christmas is on January 7th and it is and some ways the celebrate is Many Russians attend a Christmas mass on Christmas Eve . After dark, once the fast is broken, families sit down for a celebration meal. Traditionally, various pickled items are served, including gherkins, pickled mushrooms, sauerkraut, and pickled apples.

Other Russian holidays include

- ▶ 2 Russia days
- ▶ Victory day
- ▶ Russian new year
- ▶ Eastern Orthodox Christmas
- ▶ Russian Christmas and more